Welcome to the Charles W. Chesnutt Library subject guide for How to Cite - Citing Your Sources!

There are academic reasons why you must cite the sources that you use in your research paper:

Why?

- Avoid plagiarism and maintain academic honesty.
- It lets your readers know the original source of the information you use therefore lending authority to your work.
- Citations identify the sources used in your bibliography or works cited page, and allow readers to retrieve these sources

APA in-text citations

APA’s in-text citations provide at least the author’s last name and the year of publication. For direct quotations and some paraphrases, a page number is given as well.

NOTE: APA style requires the use of the past tense or the present perfect tense in signal phrases introducing cited material: Smith (2005) reported; Smith (2005) has argued.

1. Basic format for a quotation Ordinarily, introduce the quotation with a signal phrase that includes the author’s last name followed by the year of publication in parentheses. Put the page number preceded by “p.” (or “pp.” for more than one page) in parentheses after the quotation.

   Critser (2003) noted that despite growing numbers of overweight Americans, many health care providers still “remain either in ignorance or outright denial about the health danger to the poor and the young” (p. 5).

   If the author is not named in the signal phrase, place the author’s name, the year, and the page number in parentheses after the quotation: (Critser, 2003, p. 5).

   NOTE: APA style requires the year of publication in an in-text citation. Do not include a month, even if the entry in the reference list includes the month.

Author Note
This paper was prepared for Psychology 108, Section D, taught by Professor Kang.

Marginal annotations indicate APA-style formatting and effective writing.

This paper follows the style guidelines in the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association, 6th ed. (2010).
APA Style (6th) Quick Guide

Dalhousie University Libraries

Citations indicate the exact location for sources of information used in the text of the paper; the references (or list of works cited) describes, as a whole, the works from which the citations are taken. PLEASE NOTE: The examples on the following pages are based on the style recommended in the American Psychological Association Publication Manual (6th ed. 2010).

SAVE TIME: Use RefWorks to easily keep track of your references and quickly format them correctly for your bibliography. RefWorks is a personal bibliographic citation managing system that Dalhousie subscribes to. For more information, go to http://www.library.dal.ca/RefWorks/.

IMPORTANT: Dalhousie University defines plagiarism as “the presentation of the work of another author in such a way as to give one’s reader reason to think it to be one’s own. Plagiarism is a form of academic fraud.” Find out what plagiarism is and how to avoid it at http://plagiarism.dal.ca.

REFERENCES

Remember: APA requires double-spacing between ALL text lines – that includes references. Please note that, in an attempt to save space, this document has been formatted in single spacing.
